

Natasya Rizkiviany

My name is Natasya Rizkiviany, usually called by Tasya. I like socializing with other people, building as many relationships as possible, and learning new things. Moreover, I really like content writing such as article or microblog and marketing. I have learned these two things in college and in organizations.

I majored in Marketing Communication at Bina Nusantara University and currently taking my 5th semester. During college, of course I got a lot of new knowledge, especially regarding communication and how to market the product or service. The courses I studied included public speaking, entrepreneurships, interpersonal communication, brand strategy communication, etc. The reason I took this major is because I really like to talk and communicate with people.

My hobby is writing and reading on websites such as online media, blogs, or articles. In my free time, I usually work on article or microblogs or E-magazine for organization, namely the BLSC. Apart from that, I have also written a personal article entitled 'Dampak Pandemi terhadap Mental Remaja' which was sent to the online media Kumparan and it was successfully updated.
